RIVER RUN HISTORY

A Chronology of the South's Largest 15K

DATELINE: JACKSONVILLE, FLORIDA

SPRING, 1977 - Members of the Jacksonville Track Club, after competing in the highly-successful July 4th Peachtree Road Race in Atlanta, decide to stage their own version of this mass-participation race. The Florida Times-Union is quick to realize the potential of the race and offers to sponsor it. By mid-summer, JTC President Gary Hogue had things well under way.

1978 - World Class runners and a field of over 2700 participated in the inaugural River Run. Canadian Jerome Drayton, a pre-race favorite, pulled Bill Rodgers, Chris Stewart, former Florida State star Ken Misner and Benji Durden through the mile in 4:45. By four miles, Rodgers, who would go on to win the Boston Marathon two weeks later, had taken control of the race. Rodgers time of 44:46 was nearly a full minute ahead of Ken Misner, who ran 45:20. Kim Merritt won the women's title easily in 55:46.

1979 - By 1979 the River Run had already gained great popularity across the Southeast and would serve as the Road Runners of America Southern Regional 15-Kilometer Championships. Jerry Odlin won the men's title, as he ran through a hot and humid Jacksonville morning to record a fine 46:04. Joan Benoit ran 51:46 to take top women's honors and establish a new course record. Over 2800 runners finished the challenging course, which began and finished on Coast Line Drive in downtown Jacksonville.

1980 - By 1980 the race field had nearly doubled, with over 4400 entries. Bob Hodge and Atlanta's Benji Durden battled throughout the race, with Hodge emerging as the winner in the last half mile by a scant four seconds. Jennifer White, of Charlottesville, Virginia, ran 53:11 to win the women's division. This time River Run was designated as the RRCA's National 15K Championships. RU associate editor Bob Ludlow, a last-minute entry, was astounded to learn, only at the moment he accepted his trophy at the awards ceremony, that he had captured a national title for masters.

1981 - One of the best fields ever assembled set the stage for the 1981 edition. Dan Dillon ran 43:34 to establish a new course record and best Jon Sinclair by just two seconds. Steve Floto ran 44:34 to take third, and Louis Kenny was fourth in 44:35. In the women's race, Patti Catalano ran 49:33 to break the existing American record. Joan Benoit, the previous course record holder, ran 50:29 for third, and Jacqueline Gareau ran a fine 51:37 to place third.

1982 - The 1982 edition was the fastest to date, with Kenyan Mike Musyoki recording a quick 43:33. Musyoki's win did not come easily, as River Run once again provided an exciting finish. Britain's Nick Rose, running for the Sub-4 Track Club, placed second in 43:34 (RU, June-July, 1982). Wendy Smith, fresh from a second-place finish in Tampa's Gasparilla Distance Classic, recorded a fine 49:51. There were 4399 official entrants and an estimated 100,000 spectators along the tough course.

1983 - Jacksonville's Bill Fisher and John Rogerson led a tough field thru the mile in a quick 4:38 to eventually finish 13th & 11th respectively. Britian Nick Rose outkicked Mark Nenow in the final 100 meters to record his first River Run victory. Dave Murphy edged Joseph Nzau at the tape to place third. Charlotte Teske of West Germany took top women honors as she ran 50:17.

The Sixth Annual Jacksonville River Run Produced Another Fierce Duel Down The Stretch

Last year the sun; this year the wind. By Thursday afternoon it was blasting through downtown Jacksonville, creating apprehension among runners and race officials alike. The unexpected coolness was welcome and refreshing, but the prospect of high winds on race day was cause for concern.

All day Friday the EXPO drew large crowds to the lobby of the Downtown Hilton. "We're having a great turnout!" enthused Doug Alred, this year's race director. "Look at this place; it's packed!" Indeed, the EXPO would turn out to be an unqualified success, hopefully an indication of things to come.

The invited runners could be seen gathering in small groups on the periphery, talking of past races, training and, of course, the wind!

The wind. Outside, the temperature had dropped and harsh winds continued to swirl and gust through the darkening streets, posing a definite threat to the harmony of River Run '83. A few runners, braving the darkness and the wind-chill, jogged over to the starting area in a kind of pre-race ritual.

There had been discussions all week long about the great depth of this year's field; but it was only when the invited runners were all finally assembled at Friday evening's press conference that it became fully apparent what a major road-racing event we would be witnessing in a few short hours. To the left sat the British contingent—Dave Long, Nick Rose (one of last year's heroes) and Dave Murphy. To their right—Benji Durden, Jon Sinclair, Mark Nenow (remember this name), Malcolm East, Joseph Nzau, Louis Kenny, Paul Cummings, Domingo Tibaduiza, Bill Fisher, John Rogerson. And the women's field—Charlotte Teske, Jacqueline Gareau, Eleanor Simonsick, Ingrid Kristiansen, Linda McLennan! The masters were ably represented by Bill Stewart, who just set an American Master's Record for the 15K distance at Gasparilla—a stunning 45:57!

Questions quickly focused on the wind.

"I hope we don't have to run through this bloody mess," declared Nick Rose.

"I'm ready for a good race tomorrow regardless of the wind!" said Dave Murphy.

"To tell the truth, I'm not that worried about the wind," Colorado's Jon Sinclair would attest. "I'm here to run and to see where I'm at in my training. I suspect it will be tough going tomorrow."

This would be Sinclair's first race since his disappointing 2:20:55 in last

October's mammoth New York City Marathon. Having just completed three months of hard training in the rugged hills of New Zealand, Sinclair would be prepared to battle a strong wind. "I've got the strength," he said, "but I haven't done any speed work at all. I hope to be up there tomorrow, and I'll give it 100 percent."

Sinclair's statement evoked a sense of deja vu among the members of the press. Back in 1981, mentioning the name of Jon Sinclair was almost sure to prompt the wisecrack "Jon who?" That was back before Sinclair had come into his own—before River Run '81. Just ask Jon about that race: "I battled it out the whole way with Dan Dillon," Sinclair recalled. "At one point I thought I had him beat, but then he came back on me. I remember thinking that I'd heard someone say Dillon had no speed, so I figured to outkick him in the final meters. It didn't come down to that, though. Dan got tougher as the finish got closer. He had real guts!" Dillon would go on to win River Run '81, beating Sinclair by a scant two seconds.

Down through its history River Run has served up a spectacle of guts and glory. In only its fourth running, it attracted a large national-class field which saw Benji Durden and Bob Hodge battle throughout much of the 15K distance, with Hodge emerging as the winner in the last half mile by just four seconds. In 1982, the race would again come down to a gutsy finish. Mike Musyoki, fresh from a world-record performance in Tampa's Gasparilla Distance Classic, edged a fiercely determined Nick Rose by less than a second (RU, June - July, 1982). River Run '82 had surely lived up to tradition; and with over 4,000 runners and 100,000 spectators, the glory of winning was even more prestigious.

For River Run '83 there was even more at stake than the prestige of winning. Doug Alred had seen to that. "I wanted River Run to be the best ever!" For starters, Alred implemented a prize and incentive money structure that would guarantee fast times. "The prize money would go out to the top ten finishers, with bonuses being awarded for a world or American record." Secondly, Alred got the race on the Gran Prix circuit of the controversial Association of Road Racing Athletes (ARRA). The ARRA circuit, in its short life, has consistently attracted the nation's best road racers, so a strong field seemed assured. One thing seemed certain: Whoever won would have much more than glory!

The massive River Run organization was steaming smoothly toward the promised shore of road-racing glory with Captain Alred at the helm when menacing storm clouds suddenly developed directly ahead and threatened to sink his ship. In early February, Alred met with Alvin Chriss, the TACTRUST administrator, to discuss prize money and sanctioning for the 15K event. Later that month, the applications for sanction had not arrived and Alred desperately tried to contact Chriss and TAC. "The race date was getting closer and closer. I was really beginning to worry," Alred recalled. The applications didn't arrive until just two days

A VIEW FROM THE FRONT (Well, Near the Front)

By Bill Fisher

For me, the worst part of any important race is the five minutes preceding the start. There's an atmosphere of mass-anxiety that doesn't help my stomach, which always feels like #!*& anyway. I try to use this brief lull to check out the competition, even though I'm well aware that how someone looks before a race has almost no bearing on how he'll finish. This anxious period before River Run '83 is made much worse when a balloon bursts and many of road racing's elite think it's the starting gun. Only a handful of locals who realize it's not the real thing prevent a disastrous false start. Finally, order is restored, but only after the runners have been told that the cannon will not fire and we will start on a voice command. "GO!"

As soon as the race starts, I lose all awareness of the thundering herd behind me. Instead, I concentrate intently on the few numbers in front of me. I hope to keep this number under twenty.

By the mile mark, a pack of about twenty runners has broken away from the multitudes. At this point, spectators, radio and TV commentators, news people and other running "experts" pronounce these runners as "contenders". In reality, if one were to stop the race and ask these "contenders" their chances of winning, maybe ten would say "Good," and maybe four or five would mean it. At the finish, only slightly more than 100 seconds will separate these twenty "contenders," but those 100-plus seconds will make a world of difference.

The difference has become apparent around two miles. The lead pack has dwindled to eight, and the "pretender contenders" like myself have fallen off and settled into our slowish 4:50 per mile pace, struggling to stay in the top twenty. The support from the sympathetic crowd is encouraging, even though it is clear that none of this group has a chance of winning.

Just past three miles begins the really hard part of the race for us near-the-front-of-the-pack runners. We must continue our 4:50 to 5:00 per mile pace, trying to keep the elusive leaders in sight and the determined followers behind. Our group has spread out going down Atlantic Boulevard, and I can judge how near my closest challenger is by the time lapse between bursts of applause.

There's little change in position or effort until we reach the infamous Hart Bridge. Here, the effort increases, the pace drastically decreases, and I pray no one will blow by me. At the crest I realize everyone is struggling as much as I am, and if I can maintain my pace (fast, that is), I can hold onto my position. If I let up, I can say goodbye to the coveted top twenty.

The last two miles are no cakewalk. My legs are extremely weak from blasting down the bridge, and the only good thing to think about is that it is almost over. This year there was a little extra incentive provided by race officials to keep "pretender contenders" in the money, but since it seems to be a hotbed of controversy, I'll let you read about it in some other article.

As I round the final turn onto Coastline Drive, I'm battling a pack of persistent challengers. It matters little to us that this is not the race for first. Just like 6,000 other runners, each of us has his own race to finish, and I'm giving it all I have down the stretch. I make it to the finish a step or two ahead of my persevering rivals and feel pleased with my effort, although my immediate concern is with recovery from total exhaustion (expletives deleted). I walk the length of the chute just as twelve people before me have and thousands after me will.

Being a near-the-front-of-the-pack runner—a "pretender contender"—is not really that different from being an anywhere-in-the-pack runner, but it is fun to write about.

Bill Fisher has been living and running as a "pretender contender" out of Jacksonville, Florida, for the past two years. This is his first appearance in Runner's Update.

■ The lead pack was still eight strong after 6 miles of racing.

before the race. Alred quickly filled in the necessary information and Federal Expressed the package back. "I just waited after that point," said Alred. On Friday, the day before the race, he received a call from Ollan Cassel, TAC executive director. Cassel informed Alred that a sanction could not be granted due to the structure of the prize money. The problem was that TAC rules permitted awarding money for place but not for time; but with the prize money structure already published and the race only hours away, Alred was committed to his course. "There was only one direction to take at that point," said Alred. "I had to go on as planned, with or without a sanction." About an hour later, the black clouds parted as suddenly as they'd formed. Alred received another call from Cassel. "He said that we'd get a sanction this year but would have to change some things next year." S.S. River Run would steam into port as scheduled under clear skies.

Race morning dawned cool and crisp. The wind had settled down to reasonable speeds and would not spoil the race. Over 6,500 runners lined up on Coastline Boulevard for the start. As race officials blared starting instructions over the sound system, a large balloon, to be used as a mile marker, burst. Without warning, the front row of runners broke, having mistakenly interpreted the balloon as the starting gun. Luckily, a handful of race officials stopped them before a major disaster had taken place. As officials reassembled the runners, the long flatbed trailer developed a flat. With no other vehicle of that size available and the start just minutes away, the decision was made to go with the flat.

The runners got out quick, too quick for the clattering press vehicle, which was soon engulfed by world-class runners. Nick Rose and company passed by quickly and could be seen disappearing around the first turn. We gained some momentum and managed to catch back up with the leaders, who were now Jacksonville's Bill Fisher and John Rogerson. They passed the mile in a quick 4:38.

At four miles, the front-running pack was ten strong and included everyone with a possible chance at winning: Benji Durden, Nick Rose, Adrian Leek, Jon Sinclair, Dave Long, Mark Nenow, Dave Murphy, Joseph Nzau, Malcolm East and Paul Cummings. Rogerson and Fisher were running together about 20 seconds off the lead. The press truck rambled on, laboring to stay ahead of the leaders. The crowds of spectators lining the course were so thick at times and the press wagon so unwieldy that we fully expected to get hung up on one of the many tight corners while the race surged past.

Just past six miles and the foot of the redoubtable Hart Bridge, Rose surged, making his bid to steal the race. "I couldn't believe that all those guys were still up there. We were running fast and no one seemed to be falling off," he recalled. "I figured I better get out—fast!" Rose's surge carried him ten meters in front of the pack, and only Mark Nenow was able to respond. "When Nick went I was ready for the move and went with him." The two battled up the half-mile ascent and lengthened their lead to more than 20 meters.

Radio reports announced that Charlotte Teske and Ingrid Kristiansen were running together not far in front of Linda McLennan and Eleanor Simonsick. Teske and Kristiansen passed the mile in 5:19. Teske had expressed earlier in the week her desire to win this race. "I had heard much talk about River Run, and I want to win very badly."

When Rose and Nenow crested the bridge, they had opened a gap of more than 35 meters. "I was running very hard at that point," Sinclair recalled. "Throughout the entire race I would say, 'Oh my god, I'm dying! I've just got to hang on a little longer.' " The two leaders passed 8 miles in a quick 37:30, running side by side. Behind them: Dave Murphy, Adrian Leek and Joseph Nzau. "The wind beat us going up and over the bridge," Rose explained. "We probably lost a good bit of time there."

As has become a tradition, River Run '83 once again came down to a guts and glory finish. Nenow and Rose made the final turn onto Coastline Boulevard locked together, now only a half mile from the finish. Nenow was the first to move and quickly accelerated to a five meter lead. "When Nenow started to pull away, I remembered last year's finish and Musyoki's final kick," said Rose. With just a quarter of a mile remaining, Rose summoned up every last ounce of energy and guts and changed gears, sprinting across the finish line just one-tenth of a second ahead of Nenow.

Behind them a fierce duel for third was taking place. Leek, Murphy and Nzau entered the final half mile together and began an all-out sprint for the tape. Leek lost contact immediately as Murphy and Nzau powered toward the finish. At the tape, it was Murphy, winning by the slightest of margins. "I was relieved to just finish," he said, looking like he really meant it.

Joseph Nzau took fourth in 43:58, and Adrian Leek placed fifth in 44:03. Jacksonville's John Rogerson ran a fine 44:56 to place 11th and Bill Fisher ran 45:26 for 13th overall.

In the women's race, Charlotte Teske held off a late charge by Eleanor Simonsick to place first in 50:16.

When master's winner Bill Stewart blasted across the finish line in an incredible 47:26, RU associate editor Bob Ludlow just shook his head in near-disbelief. "To think that I won the master's division of this race just two years ago, and now this guy runs it over five minutes faster than I did! Where's my bicycle?"

Stewart is one of a handful of the new generation of master's runners who are rewriting the record books almost every time they run. As Stewart put it in a post-race interview, "People are going to have to rethink what it means to be forty." Indeed. Ludlow still shakes his head whenever the subject of Stewart's times at Gasparilla and River Run is mentioned.

And so River Run '83 is history, the tradition of guts and glory still intact. Over 5,000 participants completed the challenging run, making it the largest 15K in the South and one of the best races in the country! What can next year bring?

■ Rose recounts his "guts & glory" victory.

RIVER RUN WRAPUP: Tom Kenny

BEHIND THE SCENES

An Interview With Race Director Doug Alred

RU River Run '83 is now history. How do you view the race from your standpoint?

ALRED A whole lot differently from what I originally expected. I've been race director in over 30 races, but you really can't imagine what it's like to stage a race with 6,500 entrants. The race took everything out of me. I guess you could almost compare it to a marathon, because it takes an incredible amount of preparation and time, and then, when it's all over, you have to recover. I suspect that I'll spend the next two or three weeks just getting things back to normal.

RU Doug, how did you actually become the race director for this year's event?

ALRED Well, that's a real interesting story. Basically, though, I became race director because no one else wanted to. We originally were going to run the race through the River Run Managerial Board, but it quickly became apparent that we had to have someone to make decisions. I can't imagine what would have happened had we not filled the race director position. I also felt that I had participated as a runner in the race for the last five years and had gotten so much from it that maybe it was time to put something back into the event. As it turned out, I got injured and was not able to train at all. Once you get involved with something this size, it takes control of your personality. You want to do everything possible to make it succeed!

RU Do you feel that being a runner yourself gave you some insight as to what the runners wanted from the event?

I fully anticipate River Run '84 to be even more exciting
—Doug Alred

ALRED Well, I would classify myself as more than a runner. When I race, I'm not out there for the fun of it; I'm out there to win or better my times. I think that most races cater to this type of runner, and I wanted the race to give a lot to the middle- and back-of-the-pack runners. We gave these runners some nice gifts in their race packets, and every single participart was seeded. We also give out top ten percent awards in the age groups, and every single participant will get an official time and a copy of our results magazine. A lot of races do little or nothing for the so-called "average" runner, and I didn't want to see that happen. Those people are very important to the race, and they deserve a little special treatment.

RU Looking ahead to River Run '84, what are your plans for improving the race?

ALRED Well, we'll have to assume that I'm race director. But, I'd like to update our results so that they can be processed quicker. I'd also like to get the city of Jacksonville more involved. Of course we'd continue to provide a lot for the average runner, but most of all I want River Run '84 to be the race to run in March. I want every world class runner and every "average" runner to be here. We already have plans for a bigger and better EXPO and a party before the awards ceremony. I'd like to hear suggestions from runners who participated in this year's run.

RU What direction will River Run '84 take with regard to the ARRA circuit and prize money?

ALRED I've heard that Don Kardong is working on a TV contract which will provide live national coverage to the circuit. If that comes about, I'm sure we'll want to be part of their Gran Prix.

This interview took place on Monday, March 14, 1983. At the time, Doug was still recovering from the "Post-River Run Blues."
